

Queen Beat

Fall
2021

Welcome to our second issue of Queen Beat. We hope you enjoy this issue as much as we did making it. For those who are uninitiated, we present to you our backstory:

Not so long ago, and in a world quite like our own, there stood a kingdom more vast than all the oceans put together. This kingdom was a magical place; a sanctuary for all those within its borders, and it was run by a court of powerful Queens...

They had come from all walks of life; some running from certain ruin, and others simply looking for a place they could call home. Together, the Queens decided to pool their wide array of abilities to create this magical kingdom for themselves. It wasn't long before they opened their gates to Queens from far-off kingdoms, offering a place of safety and happiness to all those who promised to uphold the same for their fellow Queen. These Queens ruled together, laughed together, grew together- and now they open their gates once more, to you.

Welcome, fair traveller, to our kingdom of Queen Beat!

OUR FAVOURITE FALL OUTFITS

>user:hellobelle

I love wearing lots of layers and wrapping up warm. My favourite thing about Autumn would easily be wearing my knitted sweaters, scarves, thick skinny jeans and my boots. The leaves turn into beautiful colours too, something which I love seeing on my walks to work.

CUTESPIRACY

>user:cutespiracy

My favourite thing about fall? Hmm, it definitely has to be the cozy warm teas and soothing music they play at coffee shops. Also the falling tree leaves that fall on your head when you walk under them!

PROPHET'S CRYPTID TIER LIST

Hi y'all! As the resident cryptid expert and monster fucker, I proudly present my absolutely infallible rankings of some of my favorite cryptids. I've based my rankings on three main components: Overall Scariness, Creativity, and Plausibility (with bonus points if I'd let them toss my meat sack into Pound Town). While not comprehensive, I do think this list covers most of the major ones everyone knows. Enjoy! -Prophet

NESSIE

A classic; everyone knows and loves Nessie. She's got oodles of merch and even skeptics think she's charming. Whether or not you think she's real, it's hard to ignore the countless historical reports of some kind of creature in that very lake, dating all the way back to 600 AD. It's sad to know that the famous photo from the 30's was proven to be a hoax, but either way Nessie lives close to all our hearts.

SCORE:

SCARINESS - 1

CREATIVITY - 4

PLAUSIBILITY - 1

BONUS - 4

Not fuckable, but very huggable.

TOTAL: 6

JERSEY DEVIL

I'll be honest, I'd heard of the Jersey Devil from a young age but never quite new what it was for the longest time. Sometimes I wish I could unsee this weird, malformed goat-bat-snake-thing. In all the Devil's sightings it seems to be a sort of Chupacabra character, snatching small animals and livestock and generally being a menace in the more rural parts of the state. Folklore states that the Devil was born as the unlucky 13th child of a "Mother Leeds," a person who did exist historically with a record of 12 children. The story speculates that the 13th child was born as a devilish creature with hooves, wings, and a forked tail and was eventually dubbed the Leeds' Devil or Jersey Devil.

SCARINESS - 1
CREATIVITY - 8
PLAUSIBILITY - 2

I say this in the most derogatory way, it's the stupidest limp noodle ever

BRITISH BIG CATS

You'd never guess it, but apparently mysterious giant wild cats are a legitimate problem in the UK; so much so in fact, that local governments actually keep a tally on big cat sightings each year and at one point dispatched military personnel to hunt them down. While a couple species of wildcat are native to the area, pumas, lions and leopards are not- all of which have been found attacking livestock and generally freaking people out all over the country. There are some Christmas tales in Eastern Europe that talk about a giant Christmas Cat (not as cool as it sounds) which may be related, but it's more likely that they're escaped pets or zoo animals. In any case, explore the rural areas of the UK with caution I guess?

Look even I have my limits.

BIGFOOT

I still swear Bigfoot is just some dude in a ghille or fursuit but there's lots of people who not only say they've seen him, but had very close encounters with him. Honestly the best part about Bigfoot these days is all the outlandish, sometimes graphic, stories about him. There is a decent amount of folklore which may provide some solidity to the creature's existence (and possibly tie it to others like the Yeti and Skunk Ape) but personally I don't buy it. Either way, plenty are still fascinated by him.

SCORE:

SCARINESS - 1

But only if he bathes first.

MOTHMAN

It's a bird- it's a plane- IT'S MOTHMAN!
Easily one of my all-time favorite cryptids, Mothman has an almost cult-like following in his hometown of Point Pleasant, West Virginia. There's a statue, museum, specialty food items, and a festival dedicated to him every year. Despite being possibly a literal harbinger of death and disaster, as he has a tendency to appear around sites of tragedy, Mothman's bright red eyes and sculpted booty are a favorite amongst many. Mothman has a multitude of reported sightings in the area, though many disagree on some details about him.

BEAST OF BRAY ROAD

A Wisconsin special, the Beast of Bray Road is reported to be a kind of werewolf that haunts the area around- you guessed it- Bray Road. Now I have a particular soft spot in my heart for werewolves, but I gotta say there's absolutely nothing interesting about this creature aside from the fact that it exists. No cool lore or crazy stories, it's just a wolf thing people see eating roadkill sometimes. According to a friend who lives in the area, it's very fluffy.

SCORE:

SCARINESS - 4

CREATIVITY - 4

PLAUSIBILITY - 2

BONUS - 10

YES. Werewolves are SO HOT.

TOTAL: 8

FRESNO NIGHTCRAWLERS

As far as I know this is the only entry on this list that has definitive, unaltered video footage! The Fresno Nightwalkers were first caught on a security camera in Fresno and can be seen traipsing through backyards in a suburban area. These lanky dudes don't seem to be aggressive at all, but no one seems to have gotten close enough to know for sure. Their strange limbs imply that it might just be some dudes on stilts, but many believe they might be some kind of alien.

SCORE:

SCARINESS - 4

CREATIVITY - 6

PLAUSIBILITY - 2

BONUS - 0

I don't think that stilt-leg appendage would be very fun. Just saying.

TOTAL: 12

FLATWOODS MONSTER

Aw yeah, it's time for the big lady of the day—the Flatwoods Monster! Often associated with a UFO sighting in the Flatwoods area, the Monster was discovered by a handful of kids and a cautious adult who witnessed a UFO seemingly crash into their property. All their reports are slightly different, but it's generally agreed that she was a seemingly humanoid creature with glowing eyes and some sort of pointy head-dressing, as well as a long skirt. She didn't do much but hiss at the group before they ran off, but she's still become a bit of a phenomena in the area.

SCORE:

SCARINESS - 6

CREATIVITY - 9

PLAUSIBILITY - 4

BONUS - 7

She seems like a kinky bitch, what can I say?

TOTAL: 19

SKUNK APE

I think we can all agree that this is just Bigfoot 2: Swamp Edition, right? Tall, humanoid creature covered in fur and insanely strong? Yeah. It's just Florida swamp folk fuckin' about in some kind of camouflage. I should know, I am a Florida swamp person. I still wouldn't get in it's way though.

SCORE:

SCARINESS - 6

CREATIVITY - 3

PLAUSIBILITY - 2

BONUS - 3

I don't think I could get over the smell. Or the face.

SKIN

*I open my eyes, a groggy yawn leaves my lips.
The window is hot with the beams of the sun,
and I can't stand the heat.*

Texas summer has always plagued my skin, dark and deep with tones of brown.

I want to play outside but my mother warns me;

"You'll get too dark if you play in the sun."

Even now I question the fowl emotions of getting "too dark."

*I wish I could love this skin
but it haunts me as a woman.*

Who am I but a dark body with a soul filled with light.
